

Their Legacy Lives On

Robert Elden Edwards
1924-2004

Jerry Page Dill
1927-2005

Bob Edwards and Jerry Dill were known and loved around the world. Together with Wayne Hooper and Bob Seamount, they were the King's Heralds combination that won the hearts of Voice of Prophecy listeners for 12 years from 1949 to 1961, though their individual careers in the quartet lasted even longer. During the past year, their family and friends said good-bye to both Bob and Jerry.

Edwards died in Malibu, California on June 3, 2004 while recuperating from cancer surgery. He was 79. Dill died January 15, 2005 at the age of 77 in Puyallup, Washington.

Auditions in Summer of '47

Dill sang in the King's Heralds quartet from 1947 to 1962, mostly as bass, though as baritone in 1948 and 1949. He got the job when as a 19-year-old sophomore he hitchhiked from Walla Walla, Washington to the VOP office in Glendale for an audition.

Edwards earned his religion degree at Emmanuel Missionary College (now Andrews University) in 1946 and had just completed his first year as a pastor in Florida when the King's Heralds and H. M. S. Richards arrived for camp meeting at Forest Lake Academy in May 1947. He recalled later that when he learned they were looking for a first tenor, he "made myself an absolute nuisance to them" and even "pestered them while they ate." Perhaps to get rid of him, the quartet asked him to try out in a mini-audition backstage at the camp meeting auditorium.

Soon after, Edwards received a formal invitation to come to California to audition along with three other prospective first tenors. Though Frank Dietrich was selected, Edwards was asked to "wait in the wings" as an extra, working "part-time in the Bible School, part-time as a secretary assistant to H. M. S. Richards, and part-time practicing with the other musicians." By February 1948, Edwards was named first tenor. The following year he dropped out of the King's Heralds briefly and sang in a Gleemen quartet for J. L. Tucker's Quiet Hour radio broadcast in Oakland, California.

But when Edwards returned to the Voice of Prophecy later in 1949, he had found a home and career for life. He was ordained in 1953 and he sang in the King's Heralds until 1971, then developing and producing the daily radio broadcast for H.M.S. Richards Jr., and even after retirement continuing to work part-time as a Bible School counselor until shortly before his death.

Glory Years of King's Heralds

Dill was a "world ambassador for Jesus," says Lonnie Melashenko. "He helped set the standard for excellence as he sang bass in the King's Heralds during their 'glory years.' Whether at General Conference sessions or camp meetings, we all knew the timbre and rumble of his basso profundo in songs like 'Walk in Jerusalem Just Like John.'"

During the late 40s and throughout the 50s, the life of a King's Heralds member consisted of brief periods of actual singing and long stretches of travel with four or even five other men cooped up in a car. Jerry fondly recalled Pastor Richards "riding shotgun," studying his Bible with a magnifying glass.

While working at the Voice, Jerry completed his education at La Sierra College (now La Sierra University) in 1957 and Pastor Richards later ordained him.

After leaving the quartet in 1962, Jerry lived in Hawaii for about three years, pastoring three churches and becoming an avid scuba diver.

He then worked in Central California as a singing evangelist and later as a minister for 24 years.

While in California, Jerry bought and farmed an almond orchard that consumed much of his free time. He often joked that he “went out to eat” all the time—by picking nuts or fruit grown on the farm.

Passion for Sharing Jesus

Jerry served the Lord for 42 years in the ministry and for another 15 years after retirement through music and Bible studies until just days before his death. His family noted in the life sketch prepared for his memorial service that what Jerry loved most “were a good joke, a soul that found the Savior, his family, and his friends.”

Pastor Melashenko was among those who counted Jerry as a special friend. “He was baritone in the quartet when my dad, Joe, sang bass in the group in 1948 and 1949. Ever after he was close to our family—sharing amusing stories, discussing where to find gold in the Klondike, or discount real estate near the “Whenever Jerry sang or preached, he wasn’t acting,” says Pastor Melashenko. “He opened his heart full throttle with his passion for sharing Jesus—sometimes with tears in his eyes and a lump in his throat. Only in heaven will he ever know how many were influenced by his gracious ways, warm friendliness, the twinkle in his eye, and his passion for integrity and fairness in living.”

Tireless and Determined

As Jerry set the standard for singing bass in the quartet, Bob set the standard for first tenor, says Wayne Hooper: “a clear, lyric voice—with just the right vibrato and sensitive expression in every song.”

Pastor Melashenko recalls, “Bob was one of the most open-minded individuals, an encourager, one who had the knack for making others feel important. He was also tireless, determined, genuine, and a stickler for details.”

For some, Bob was a surrogate father. That is how Jon Richards, M.D., older son of H. M. S. Richards Jr., remembers him. One night when his father was on a camp meeting tour, Jon had two tickets to a Lakers basketball game, but no way to get there. He called Bob, who dropped everything to make time for his young friend.

Following his retirement as broadcast producer, Bob not only answered dozens of letters from Bible School students and radio listeners every week, but also led out in several study groups.

For 28 years he taught a spiritual growth group at a retirement center and for nearly 15 he also held a Bible study group one night a week. At the same time he taught a Sabbath morning class for his church for 20 years, and not long before his death he had begun a new study group at another congregation that met in the afternoon.

volcanos on the Big Island of Hawaii.”

When Pastor Melashenko came to the VOP, he asked the 1962 quartet—Dill, Edwards, Hooper, and John Thurber—to join him for an introductory camp meeting tour in 1992. The 30th anniversary reunion of that combination continued in 1993 when they went with Pastors Melashenko and H. M. S. Richards Jr. to Brazil to celebrate the VOP’s 50th year of ministry there.

Kenneth Richards, brother of H. M. S. Richards Jr., says, “I admired Bob for many reasons: his expertise in the areas of astronomy, archaeology, history, literature, and theology; his love for good books, writing, and yes, even politics. I admired him for his kindness, his ability to analyze issues, his willingness and ability to work hard and long at worthwhile projects—my dad’s biography, for example—and his adherence to the high moral principles of Scripture.

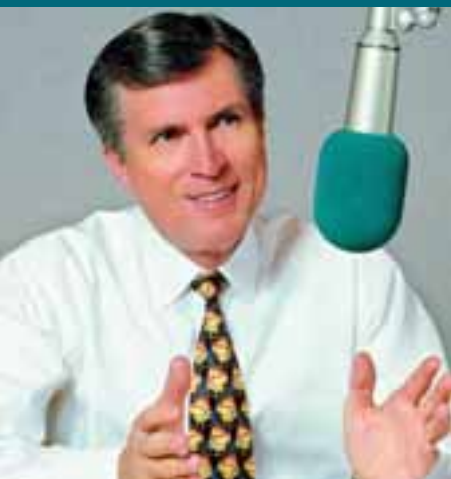

“But I admired him most because, though like myself, he was imperfect, he nevertheless followed Jesus, knowing that he had no righteousness but Christ’s and no other hope than Him.”

Huge Footprints—and a Legacy

“Bob and Jerry leave huge footprints,” declares Pastor Melashenko, “and a legacy of hope—in Jesus the Resurrection and the Life. We’ll see them in the morning, when Gabriel blows his trumpet and Jesus descends the flaming skies. A small dark cloud . . . then flames of glory wrapping myriads of seraphic clusters in the East. Brighter, more glorious, Jesus descends . . . King of Kings and Lord of Lords!

“And then, as ‘The Roll Is Called Up Yonder’ we’ll join Bob and Jerry as together we ‘Walk in Jerusalem Just Like John!’”

Weekend: April 30/May 1

How to Escape the Worry Trap (CD #5S18)

It keeps you awake at night. It interferes with your digestion. And it accomplishes nothing. Worry can rob us of life, but how can we escape its trap? Consider Jesus' counsel about how to live above worry.

Daily: May 2-6

Fleeces and Faith – 1 (CD #5D18)

For seven long years God permitted His favorite people to be picked on. Why? What lessons can we learn in 2004 from the heroic tale of Gideon—and the disobedience which brought him to the rescue?

Weekend: May 7/8

Who's to Judge? (CD #5S19)

Does Jesus' counsel to "Judge not" mean Christians have to just live and let live—never passing judgment? Or is there a deeper meaning to Jesus' teaching? Join us as we continue our journey through the Sermon on the Mount.

Daily: May 9-13

Fleeces and Faith – 2 (CD #5D19)

We think of Gideon's two fleeces—and God's miracle replies—as powerful expressions of faith. But are they? After God had already promised His presence and His power, was it faith, or actually doubt, which caused this young warrior to ask for two consecutive signs?

Weekend: May 14/15

Getting the Goods (CD #5S20)

What you expect to receive from life may depend on how you view God. Jesus promises that He will not give us snakes for fish or stones for bread.

Daily: May 16-20

Fleeces and Faith – 3 (CD #5D20)

God worked a miracle with 300 men . . . but could have accomplished the same thing all by Himself! Why does heaven use a boy's sack lunch of loaves and fishes, and our meager missionary efforts, when God's omnipotence could easily triumph apart from us?

Weekend: May 21/22

How to Stay Found (CD #5S21)

Life offers an amazing maze of possibilities—making it all-too-easy to take a wrong path. Jesus tells us how to find the right path and how to avoid bad guidance.

Daily: May 23-27

Who Bleeds When Christians Fight – 1 (CD #5D21)

How do our feuds and disagreements impact the "great controversy"? How does it look to a watching world when believers can't get along?

Weekend: May 28/29

Standing Through the Storm (CD #5S22)

Life can hurl a lot of wind and waves at us—but Jesus tells us how to make sure that the Devil can't huff and puff and blow our house down.

Daily: May 30-June 3

Who Bleeds When Christians Fight – 2 (CD #5D22)

Millions enjoy watching the staged drama of televised "wrestling." But why do Christians seem to enjoy the tumult and theater of disagreements? And what does it do to the witness of the Body of Christ when we fail to display unity?

Weekend: June 4/5

Living Jesus' Way (CD #5S23)

After spending many weeks studying Jesus' message in the Sermon on the Mount, Lonnie Melashenko takes a retrospective look at what we've learned from these inspired words of wisdom, and how to live out His teaching in daily life.

Daily: June 6-10

Turning Life Upside Down – 1 (CD #5D23)

Jesus understood the power of a good story to change lives. That's why so much of His teaching came in the form of parables. This week we begin a three-week series focusing on Jesus' stories that have changed the world. Do they still have the power to change your life today? Tune in!

Weekend: June 11/12

Needed: A Savior (CD #5S24)

Superheroes are everywhere—in books, movies, and cartoons—saving the world from imminent disaster. But what the world really needs is not a superhero, but a Savior.

Daily: June 13-17

Turning Life Upside Down – 2 (CD #5D24)

In the stories He told, Jesus often pictured people struggling with real difficulties that people face. But He
